Washington.—The United States suddenly announced Thursday a two-month-old agreement with the African republic of Liberia promising to consult immediately on defense measures in the event of aggression against Liberia.

A State Department spokesman described the pact as an administrative agreement, not subject to Senate approval as a treaty.

State Department press officer Lincoln White was asked why, though the agreement was signed July 8, it was not made public. He replied that the two months of secrecy was determined by mutual agreement of the two governments and he could not say more.

However, Dr. William D. McCain, president of MSC, said Friday he doubted that Kennard planned an all-out drive to crack the school's segregation policy.

Kennard attended the University of Chicago after armed service duty in Europe and Korea. He applied to MSC last fall as a transfer student. He later said he would not pursue his effort for that time. (Continued on Page Four)

Poplarville Lynching Report To Go To November Grand Jury

Columbia, Miss., Sept. 15.—A Mississippi district attorney said Saturday evidence in the Poplarville lynching case will be presented to a grand jury through testimony of FBI agents.

Dist. Atty. Vernon Broome said contests of the FBI report turned over to him by Gov. J. P. Coleman would be unfolded by the testimony of the FBI men who compiled it. He described the report itself as "hearsay evidence."

Broome, who received the report Wednesday, said he has started preparing a case and emphasized it would be presented to the Pearl River County grand jury Nov. 4. He said FBI agents would be asked to testify and other witnesses would be called if the grand jury then asks to hear them. "Then it will be up to the jurors to decide what disposition to make," he said.

In New Orleans, R. W. Bachman, FBI agent-in-charge of the month-long investigation of the lynching of Negro Mack Charles Parker last May, promised the agents would testify.

Africa Watch Coming British Election

Cape Town, Africa, Sept. 10.—The attention of millions of Africans is today concentrated on Britain's forthcoming general elections.

Westminster amid falling autumn leaves may be far away from Africa's harsh tropic sunlight. But the government which the British people send back there Oct. 8 will exert considerable influence in those colonial lands still administered by Britain. These colonies are predominantly in Africa, the last great region of colonial rule.

Thus a change in government and a consequent change in colonial policy could send ripples of change across much of British Africa.

NEW YORK MAYOR NAMES COMMITTEE TO HELP REDUCE RACIAL TENSION IN HARLEM, CITY'S LARGE NEGRO COMMUNITY

No Politicians For Public Officials Named To Serve On Committee

Plan To Make City Services Substantially More Effective In Harlem Area

MOST POPULAR: Prof. Jerome Stamps is not only rated as a highly capable principal of Vicksburg but is among the most popular schoolmen in the state.

New York, Sept. 10.—Mayor Wagner announced Wednesday the appointment of a committee to help reduce racial tension in Harlem, New York's predominantly Negro Community.

The Committee headed by Deputy Mayor, Paul T. O'Keefe consists of five city officials and 17 representatives of Harlem, none of whom hold public or political office.

The committee will help the Administration to shape and implement a program to eliminate or abate conditions that tend to cause tension. It will hold its first meeting in Mr. O'Keefe's office at City Hall next Tuesday at 10 a.m.

SEE RACISM AS A FACTOR IN YOUTH CRIME WAVES

New York, Sept. 15.—Racial friction is only one of the many factors behind juvenile delinquency. But it functions in more than one way.

For one thing, racial grievances whether real or imagined, provide the spark for some of the outbursts of violence among youngsters. This is no surprise in a city in which different large and small racial groups live within the same block.

Often these frictions are deliberately overlooked. The city is conscious of its role as a great human laboratory of the country. It wants to demonstrate its progress. Its newspapers and civic leaders stress cooperation and do not play up differences unnecessarily.

National Urban League Backs Civil Rights Commission Report

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—The National Urban League, at the end of its three-day 1959 Conference Thursday (Sept. 10), voted endorsement of the recommendations of the Federal Commission on Civil Rights.

The conference was held at Washington's Sheraton-Park Hotel. Almost 800 persons attended. The report of the federal Civil Rights Commission was issued, incidentally, on the first day of the League's meeting, Tuesday (Sept. 8). Among its recommendations were some relating to Negro voting rights, housing and public schools integration.

The league resolved to "dedicate and make available to the Commission on Civil Rights and to the city, state and federal agencies called upon to carry out these recommendations, on a priority basis... all of its facilities of a technical and professional nature."

The National League called upon its 63 local affiliates to do the same.

In its findings on housing, the League declared that the federal (Continued on Page Six)

South Africa Ousts Foreign Newsmen Critical Of Country's Race Policy

Cape Town, S. A., Sept. 12.—The South African Government apparently is carrying out its recent threats to deport foreign newsmen critical of its policies.

First to be served with a deportation order is Henry Barzilay, a British radio and television man representing among others the National Broadcasting Company of America. Mr. Barzilay, who held a press conference in Johannesburg Sept. 10, has lived in South Africa for 12 years. He said he must leave the country within 10 days.

As is normal with South African deportation orders, the government has given no reasons for Mr. Barzilay's deportation. The broadcaster believes, however, that government action results from recent NBC television coverage of African riots in the Cato Manor district of Durban. Mr. Barzilay says he personally was not involved in this particular assignment.

NBC Under Attack

NBC's coverage has been singled out for special criticism by External Affairs Minister Eric H. Louw, who also is responsible for South Africa's overseas press relations and who has waged a persistent campaign against foreign newsmen who, he claims, are distorting the current picture of South African affairs.
